

The Official SIMON JOYCE Memorial League

RIVALRIES = CARNAGE

With three quarters of the league having exciting RL plans this weekend, we saw a mad scramble to set valid lineups at the last moment. Protip: The trick is to make fantasy football your #1 priority in life!

At some point over the weekend I put in a drunk waiver claim for Mark Ingram and won, but didn't notice until Sunday afternoon (thanks Phil). Rolly seems to be accepting his fate as the owner of Most Injured Team 2018 (lucky for Graeme this week). David is a coward who doesn't believe in his own team. Jade finally has a working phone to set lineups from, and Holly outdid herself with the RL trash talk but sadly couldn't translate that passion into a win over Tom who continues to lurk menacingly in second place.

Unluckiest Team

Tannehill Has Risen (David) could have won against

42.86%

of opponents, but came away with a shameful loss.

Luckiest Team

Sam Francisco's 40 Miners (Graeme) only beat

57.14%

of opponents but it was enough for a win this week.

Worst Decision(s)

Tannehill Has Risen (David) could have scraped a win with extra points, but he just had to start Bortles out of spite.

33.08

Shit The Bed

Teesside Tornado (Rolly) scored a grand total of 0.00

from the TE position, and only has himself to blame.

Week 3 Recap

Standings

1. Michelle	3-0
2. Tom	3-0
3. Phil	2-1
4. Graeme	2-1
5. Dave	1-2
6. Rolly	1-2
7. Jade	0-3
8. Holly	0-3

Next Steps

It's our first bye week! Check your lineups, we'll soon find out who isn't paying attention...