

The Official SIMON JOYCE Memorial League

I TOLD YOU ALL BORTLES BRINGS GOOD LUCK!

It happened! One of our 0-3 teams finally got her first win, congratulations Jade on your victory over Rolly! Holly almost had her first win too, with the third highest score this week, but was unluckily matched up against the highest scoring team of the week (yep it was me, I am the worst). Graeme won easily over Phil (who is presumably cursing the day he heard the name "Fournette") to take back second place, while the previously undefeated Tom drops to third place with his first loss to Dave. And thank God for that.

With bye weeks in full swing and three quarters of the TE pool already dead, week 5 could be anyone's. Good luck!

Unluckiest Team

Queensland Quizards (Holly)
could have won against

71.43%

of opponents, but instead ended with a frustrating loss.

Worst Decision(s)

Bukkake Surprise (Tom) would have won with an average QB, but 0.00

is what he deserved for a low attempt at psychological warfare.

Luckiest Team

Teenage Mutant Ninja Bortles
(Jade) only beat

28.57%

of opponents but thankfully one of them was her week 4 matchup.

Shit The Bed

Teesside Tornado (Rolly) scored a league-wide low of 80.22

to secure a second straight week
at the bottom.
